

Appl. No. 10/091,163
Amdt. dated September 9, 2004
Reply to Office action of July 13, 2004

Docket No. 54317-018700

AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

Claim 14 (currently amended): A fold open display box, the box being sized to receive a video and having a planar face and being approximately ~~10 inches~~ 9 inches in length and ~~1.5 inch in breadth~~, 5 inches in breadth, the box being for displaying a toy, the box comprising:

a first panel being about ~~10 inches~~ 9 inches and about 0.5 inches in width and having a first cavity, said first cavity having a cut out portion in a planar face of the panel;

a second panel having a second cavity, wherein at least one of the first and the second cavity is designed to receive a toy;

a toy placed in at least one of the first and second cavities that is displayed through the at least partially transparent window, the toy being of a pressable material;

an at least partially transparent window attached over the cut out portion of the first cavity; and a wall connected by a first hinge to the first panel, the wall being about 1 inch in depth.

Claim 16 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, wherein the toy is insertable or removable when either the first or the second panel is turned about an axis passing through the hinge.

Claim 17 (original): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, wherein the wall is connected by a second hinge to the second panel.

Claim 18 (original): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, wherein the first panel includes a cutout of a rigid material, the rigid material being positioned between the at least partially transparent window and the first panel.

Claim 19 (original): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, further including a cut out portion in the second cavity.

Appl. No. 10/091,163
Amdt. dated September 9, 2004
Reply to Office action of July 13, 2004

Docket No. 54317-018700

Claim 20 (currently amended): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim ~~19~~ 14, further including an at least partially transparent window attached over the cut out portion of the second cavity.

Claim 21 (currently amended): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim ~~17~~ 14, wherein the wall is turned about an axis passing through the second hinge.

Claim 22 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, further including a cut out portion in the wall, the cut out portion conforming generally with the profile of the toy, such profile being different to the outer perimeter of the box.

Claim 23 (currently amended): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim ~~22~~ 14, further including an at least partially transparent window attached over the cut out portion of the wall.

Claim 24 (original): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14, wherein the at least partially transparent window is made of flexible plastic.

Claim 39 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14 including a mesh material over the cut out portion.

Claim 41 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14 wherein the window is cut out to match the profile, such profile being different to the outer perimeter of the box.

Claim 43 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14 wherein the window is cut out to match the profile of the toy and wherein the toy includes a sound generator such that on depression of the toy a sound is generated.

Claim 45 (previously presented): The fold open display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14 wherein the box includes a loudspeaker for generating sound related to a toy in the box.

Appl. No. 10/091,163
Amdt. dated September 9, 2004
Reply to Office action of July 13, 2004

Docket No. 54317-018700

Claim 47 (new): The fold display box for displaying a toy according to claim 14 wherein the second panel a has length of approximately 9 inches, breadth of approximately 5 inches and width of approximately 1 inch.